

Mobile blood donor centre rolls into Tonsley

The Australia Red Cross Mobile Donor Centre Lifeblood is visiting the Tonsley Innovation District next week.

Lifeblood is hosting an Open Day on Monday, May 9, 9am to 4pm, to answer questions about the blood donation process.

Then they will open their doors for blood donations on Tuesday, May 10, 7.30am to 4.30pm, and on Wednesday, May 11, 10am to 6.30pm.

Residents and visitors can book an appointment by calling 13 14 95 or booking online HERE.

Lifeblood is a division of the Australian Red Cross. They are funded by the Federal, State and Territory Governments of Australia to supply the community with safe, high-quality blood and blood products, as well as organ and bone marrow services for transplantation.

This work is only possible through the donations of over half a million unpaid voluntary donors.
